

University Information Day for Disabled and Dyslexic Learners

7 July 2017

9.30am – 4.00pm

University of Greenwich

AccessHE presents an opportunity for learners with disabilities in years 11, 12, 13, those in FE and students on Access to HE courses to come to the University of Greenwich for a FREE event to find out about support available to them in higher education.

Why your students should attend?

- Visit a university campus and hear from universities themselves about support they offer
- Listen to current disabled students talk about their own experiences with university life
- Find out information about the needs assessment, disabled students' allowance, assistive technology support

Draft Programme

9.30 am	Registration and refreshments
10.00 am	Welcome and introduction AccessHE
10.05 am	Workshop –Top Tips for Disabled and Dyslexic Learners Going to University Melanie Thorley, University of Greenwich
10.45 am	Student Life Presentation Student from London Metropolitan University
11.00 am	Useful tips and what to expect for your Assessment of Needs A2B Assessments (tbc)
11.45am	Student Life Presentation Student from the University of Greenwich
12.00 pm	Lunch /Campus tour
2.00 pm	Free assistive technology to help in your studies Lynn Wilson, National Association of Disability Practitioners (tbc)
2.45 pm	Q&A with current students and graduates
3.45 pm	Summary and final thoughts
4.00 pm	End